MALONE.

John, the deaf and dumb son of Mason, has returned home from school to spend vacation. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nickell have returned from Cincinnati and are spending a few days with relatives at this place. Everyone seemed to realized that Decoration day only comes once a year and most all graves were visited and covered with flowers.

Mrs. D. N. Haney is reported to be convalescing.

Mrs. Andrew Wells is reported sick this week.

Miss Alma Wells met with bad luck while going to Malone Saturday. The mule she was riding hanged its forefoot in the edge of the ford at Wells station and falling in the creek sent Miss Alma beneath the surface of the water, but without much injury. She lost a $10 bill and failed to find it.

Mort Haney, of Lexington, is spending a few days with home folk.

We are sorry to note the death of Manford, the sixteen-year-old son of Harlan Elam, who was drowned in Red river Saturday and brought here to be buried Monday. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved parents.

Hurrah for the editor! Don't let up in exposing the fellows who are selling "blue sky" and putting clouds on our land titles and stopping development of our natural resources and endangering future prosperity. Wake up, citizens and land owners and use brevity in finding out a few things in the gloom.

We are endorsing Warden Perry's move in trying to stock the streams with fish. If we are successful in getting some fine fish in our reach will do all we can to protect the fish from the enemy.

SQUARE DEAL

When It Rains One Inch

Very few persons—even those who are well informed on most matters—know how much an inch of rain is.

The average man or woman probably has an idea that an inch of rain is a mere trifle on nature's part. This is entirely wrong. In reality, it is a good big rain—fall—more than falls in most places in an average week.

A rainfall of one inch means literally that the amount of water descending in a particular shower would cover the surrounding territory to a depth of one inch providing it did not run away or soak into the ground.

An inch of rain coming down on a single acre of land would fill more than 600 barrels of forty-five gallons capacity each. This amount of water would weigh more than 110 tons or nearly a quarter of a million pounds.—Exchange.

Now is the Time to Pay.

"We read the other day," says a Missouri editor, "where a fellow was shot and his life was saved by the bullet striking a silver dollar. Now, should we happen to get shot before you pay?"

Base Ball.

The West Liberty ball team went to Morehead for a series of three games. The game Saturday resulted in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of Morehead. Sunday game stood 4 to 1 in favor of Morehead. After winning the straight game the Morehead

KNOW THY COUNTRY

I—Introductory

"Know America" is a slogan that should ring out from every school room, office, farm and shop in this nation. No man can aspire to a higher honor than to become a capable citizen, and no one can merit so distinguished a title until he is well informed of the resources, possibilities and achievements of our country.

This is a commercial age and civilization is bearing its most golden fruit in America. We are noted for our industrial achievements as Egypt was noted for her pyramids; Jerusalem for her religion; Greece for her art; Phoenicia for her fleets; Chaldea for her astronomy and Rome for her laws. Likewise we have men who will go down in the world's history as powerful products of their age. For, standing at the source of every gigantic movement that awakes civilization is a great man. The greatest minds travel in the greatest direction and the commercial geniuses of this age would have been the sculptors, poets, philosophers, architects, and artists of earlier civilizations.

As Michael Angelo took a rock and with a chisel heaved it into the image of an angel that ever beckons mankind upward and onward, thus took the desert of the Northwest and with bands of steel made it blossom like a rose, dotted the valleys with happy homes and built cities in waste places.

As Guttenberg took blocks of wood and whittled them into an alphabet and made a printing press that flashed education across the continent like a ray of light upon a new born world, McCormick took a bar of iron and bent it into a reaper and with one sweep of his magic mind broke the shackles that enslaved labor of generations yet unborn, and gave mankind freedom from drudgery, and lifted the human race into a higher zone of life.

As Nelson organized the English navy and made England mistress of the sea, enabling the British Isles to plant her flag upon every continent washed by the ocean's waves, and to make footstools of the islands of every water. Morgan organized a banking system that has made America master of the world's finances, brought Kings to our cashiers' windows, the nations of the earth to our discount desks and placed under the industries of this nation a financial system as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar.

There is no study quite so interesting as progress; no sound so magic as the roar of industry and no sight so inspiring as civilization in action. A full realization of America's part in the great events of the world past, present and future will thrill every human heart with pride, patriotism and faith in Republican institutions.

Through the courtesy of the Agricultural and Commercial Press Service, the readers of this paper will be permitted to study America; her agricultural, manufacturing and mineral development, mercantile, banking and transportation systems which are the wonder of the world. The first article of the series will deal with transportation and will appear at an early date.

SOME COMPLIMENT.

It is not often an editor hands himself a compliment. But this is an exception, and that is just what we are doing, because a certain well known citizen of this community has and is persistently recognizing the value of this paper as a reliable disseminator of local news, and has paid us this compliment in a manner which speaks volumes for his knowledge of the good things of life.

He is not destitute of this world's goods, but he possesses the rare faculty of holding onto that which he gets, lest the pangs of poverty overtake him in his declining years.

He possesses a wide knowledge of local affairs, because he is a constant reader of this paper, and the knowledge extracted therefrom is turned to good account in his own behalf.

If an important event is soon to occur, he knows of it in advance, because he has read of it in this paper.

If there is a bargain to be had anywhere in the community he is promptly apprised of the fact, because of that, too, he has read in this paper.

And if an acquaintance is sick, or death has overtaken some member of a family, or the stork has paid a visit to the home of some friend, he is among the first to extend his condolences or congratulations—because of these, also, he has read the paper.

He is a man of wisdom—a pillar of strength—with a brain which absorbs to the utmost of the essence of life.

Few things escape his notice, for he is ever on the alert.

But the one thing which he never overlooks is this paper, and therein lies the compliment which we take to ourself. It gives us a feeling that we are something more than a mere worm in human shape, that we may be even a whole cog in the community wheel.

True, he is not a subscriber to the paper—his dollar never reaches this office—but he reads the paper just the same.

For his neighbor is a subscriber and pays in advance, and in his generosity he lends the paper to the "pillar of strength"—by request.

But it may not always be so. In time we have hopes that the "pillar" will pay us the super-compliment of permitting us to add his own name to our subscription list—paid in advance, of course.

Time sometimes works wonders, even in the newspaper field.

And we have hopes, strong hopes.

COURT OF APPEALS TAKES THE BRIDLE OFF.

It looks as if the vote seller in Kentucky has been given a license to do as he dam pleases. The decision of the Court of Appeals in the Pike county cases pulls the bridle off. The boddlers can now get busy. The August primary is drawing near and it will be no uncommon sight in some parts of the State to see the cattle bunched up in blocks of five or ten and sold to the highest bidder.

It's a pity the vote sellers don't get the foot and mouth disease and all have to be killed.

The country would be infinitely better off without them, and in the sight of God it would be no harm to kill a man(?) who will deliberately barter his suffrage

The lion and the lamb have lain down together. The spectacle of Senator Beckham and Judge O'Rear stumping the State together for State-wide prohibition comes as near making the above statement literally true as we have ever witnessed. The attitude of one of the speakers bears the ear marks of insincerity and there are those who question the motives of both.

However, it is a very good way to settle old scores.

The Germans have torpedoed and badly damaged a ship flying the flag of the United States, which was on its way to this country, bearing neither passengers nor cargo. They will eventually arouse the slumbering lion at Washington, and then—look out!

Some Kentucky papers, in a serio-comic way, continue to hammer Secretary Bryan by referring to his former Chautauqua lectures. But what careth Bryan for their vindictiveness? Haven't you heard something about the effect of water on a duck's back?

When the scales fall from the eyes of the German people and they realize to what extent, in their country, the tail is wagging the dog, the old bone-headed Kaiser is liable to have trouble within as well as without.

SCISSORS and PASTE

With an Occasional Cursory Comment by the Editor.

Raise Buckwheat.

For three reasons every farmer in this section should raise buckwheat. First, it is a nutritious grain, none better for hogs or poultry or in fact, when ground and mixed with corn, can not be surpassed for horses and cattle. Second, it makes excellent bee pasture and comes at a time when wild flowers and clovers have been exhausted. Third, it will yield more per acre than flour wheat and will actually improve the land. From the middle to the last of June is a splendid time to sow it if you want a good yield of grain, but it can be sown earlier or later and get good results.—Columbia News.

Live Stock a Good Asset.

The man that raises live stock is seldom refused credit at the bank and the stores. But as a rule such men have balances at the bank and pay cash at the stores, thus getting the benefit of cash trading. Live stock raising on the farm reduces the element of risk considerably and places farming on a business basis. The cropper must take his chances with the seasons, insects, speculators and poor markets, but the man with live stock can hold till prices suit him.—Mayfield Messenger.

The Real "Good Fellow."

The real "good fellow" is the fellow who knows something good about everybody and tells it. He never knocks on his neighbor or digs up the past. He always lends a helping hand to the fellow who is up against it and gives him a chance to make good. He never forgets to do and say the little things that make his wife happy. His children find him a jolly elum and an ever-ready playmate. His home is a haven of love, happiness and contentment. The real "good fellow" is the world's greatest asset.—Bert Morehouse in Ginger.

Diversification Pays.

McCracken County berries are being brought out for the first time in their true light. No finer specimens of strawberry culture ever went to a market than those which we have seen in the past two weeks, and the avidity with which the big buying centers are seizing upon them is material proof of the profit to be expected from them.

Lettuce and other garden truck is proving as valuable. There has been no let-down in the demand for it, here or abroad, and the increased production of garden stuff has been met by a correspondingly increased demand, upholding every argument of the diversification advocates and showing us the way out of our agricultural difficulties.—Patience Sun.

Animals and Earthquakes.

That animals are sensitive to the approach of earthquakes is a fact frequently observed, and the more recent seismic troubles in various countries give numerous examples of this singular faculty which many animals possess. For instance, in Japan, horses set up an unusual agitation whenever a seismic shock is near at hand. In Central America dogs and cats flee from houses and the inhabitants have become so accustomed to this that they follow the example of the animals and leave their dwellings, so as to escape danger. In Italy it has been observed that birds left their nests and flew up to a great height in the air, but this without noise, before the earthquake took place. However, from the beginning of the shocks to the last the birds uttered their cries continuously. It is asserted that in Sicily cocks crow and dogs howl just before an earthquake.—Catholic Sentinel.

No Right to Whip Horses.

No man, because he owns a horse, which he has purchased with his money, has any more right to whip or beat the animal and urge him to excessive speed or labor than I have to stand over that same man with whip in hand, if I have purchased his day's labor with my money, and make unreasonable demands upon his physical capacity.—D. C. H. in Breeder's Gazette, Chicago.

"Run upstairs, Tommy, and bring baby's nightgown," said Tommy's mother. "Don't want to," said Tommy. "Oh, Tommy, if you are not kind to your new little sister she'll put on her wings and fly back to heaven."

"Well, let her put on her wings and fly upstairs for her nightgown."—Sacred Heart Review.

Odd Bits of News.

Gulfport, Miss.—John Keating, of this place, died the other day and his obituary was published. A barber was called in to shave the corpse. As the razor passed over the man's cheek his eyes opened, his lips parted and he said "Don't cut me, kid." The barber dived through the window and is somewhere in Oklahoma by this time. Keating is alive and well.

Dublin, Tex.—W. M. Stewart, formerly a brakeman, in a nightmare, dreamed that he was on a freight train and that, going under a bridge, a beam struck him on the head, fracturing his skull. The next morning it was found that his hair had changed from a jet black to a fiery red. Physicians say that it will be white in a few months.

Grinnell, Ia.—W. C. Robinson, an amateur aviator, was tuning up his monoplane in a field near Dr. Somers office when the doctor received a telephone call to attend a man terribly injured in a runaway 11 miles southeast of town. Robinson volunteered to take the doctor to the scene in his monoplane. Somers accepted and the 11 miles were covered in six minutes, or at the rate of 110 miles an hour.

New York, N. Y.—It is not generally known that Iceland is one of the few countries in which there is nation-wide prohibition. And from Iceland comes a story similar to those always heard from dry territory. Mr. Gier Thorsteinsson, of Reykjavik, now at the Astor Hotel, here, says that the population is using alcohol, which they manufacture themselves, in home made distilleries. There is no way to stop this.

Trenton, N. J.—Chas. Katzea lost his voice as the result of an accident several years ago. Last week a fellow patient in a hospital told a funny story. Katzea laughed long and loud. That night in a dream he repeated part of the story aloud. Next morning it was found that his power of speech was restored.

Edwardsville, Ill.—Something strange has happened to a poplar tree on the premises of Town Clerk Peter Dresch. The tree gives forth a strange, powerful and sweet perfume. No one has been able to explain the phenomenon.

Kokomo, Ind.—Run down and dragged by a taxicab Jane Gardner, 2, was found unhurt and cooing when her father crawled under the taxi to rescue the babe.

A Few Suggestions for Boosting West Liberty.

Don't be the man who put sit in city.

Building good houses builds a good town.

Save a little money and save a lot of worry.

Good roads lead not only to town, but to money.

Be a live one and the town will never be a dead one.

A nice front porch has prevented many an old maid.

Why should the town muzzle dogs and not muzzle knackers?

When someone plans to help the town, plan to help the plan.

The best plans a man can have to the future are house plans.

A good way to make the world better is to begin on the home town.

A good town will do more to keep the boys at home than good advice.

A town is like a perambulator; it isn't much good unless it is pushed.

Be like a ball player. The thing he is always working for is home.

If you think a cow can't laugh for joy, let somebody sell you a good silo.

A town is like a girl. It's wonderful what a little fixing up will do for her.

Don't spend all your time telling what you could do if you had some time.

It improves the soup to throw a little pepper in it. Same way with a town.

If you spend all the money you earn, some other fellow is banking your money.

Let's not be trying to stop something all the time. Let's start something.

Don't look for soft snaps, the hard snaps are the ones that have the ginger in them.

Don't be a grouch. Everybody in this town wishes you well, even the doctors.

If you would like to have somebody working for you, put a little money in the bank.

The world owes every man a living, but the street corner is a poor collection agency.

Opportunity knocks once at every man's door; better be at home when the lady calls.

Many a young man goes away to seek his fortune when Fortune is seeking for him at home.

Plaster your house and everybody will follow your example. Lath and the world laths with you.

You've got to be a citizen in order to vote; but you've got to do a good deal more than vote to be a citizen.

If you will consider the men of this town who are well off you will find that most of them made their money here.

The big things are not all done in the big towns. The greatest poem in the English language was written in a country churchyard.

There is only one better man than the man who gets behind and pushes, in an effort to improve the town, and that's the man who goes ahead and pulls.

Fire-Blight.

Fire-Blight is undoubtedly the most serious disease that confronts the Kentucky fruit grower to-day. San Jose Scale is no longer dangerous when trees are properly sprayed. The aphid is easily controlled as are all the other greatly feared troubles of the past. After all the other orchard troubles have been successfully met and conquered, it is very discouraging to see a promising crop of fruit ruined in a short time. In fact blight has been termed the Great Black Plague of the fruit industry. It has been estimated that it carries an annual loss of $25,000,000 to the country.

Blight is a preventable disease, and in view of the tremendous losses occasioned by it, a systematic effort should be made to check it.

Pears and apples are more subject to attack than are any of the other fruits. In fact the writer would not urge the planting of commercial pear orchards in Kentucky for the time being, until more definite means of control have been worked out. Certain varieties of apples are more susceptible than others and it is well to consider this point in making an extensive planting.

Blight is caused by a minute germ or organism that lives during the dormant season. These cankers are formed at the base of the fruit spurs, on the branches and in extreme cases on the larger limbs and trunk of the tree. Every fruit grower should acquaint himself with the appearance of the canker and destroy it as soon as noticed. If every canker could be disposed of, blight could be held in control.

Blight usually appears shortly after the blossoming period and is first noticed when the blossoms and tips begin to wilt and blacken. Often the tips of the branches only are affected. In other instances it may extend down the twig or branch, killing it as it progresses. The twigs and leaves appear as if they had been scorched by fire, hence the term fire-blight.

It is almost impossible to cut out all the diseased twigs on a badly blighted tree during the growing season. Fire-blight is a problem involving the community, hence, an organized endeavor should be made to check it. Learn to recognize the disease in its various stages, clean up the orchard and encourage your neighbor to do the same thing.

Do not be misled regarding the so-called "blight cures." There is no patent cure and no one should ever attempt to cure blight by spraying, inoculation, or soil doctoring. Insects, particularly aphids and ants, spread blight. Use the sprays against these if necessary.

J. H. CARMODY,
Extension Horticulturist.

Lexington, Ky.
May 21, 1915.

To The Editor:—

Will you please publish the following for the benefit of the poultry raisers in your county:

As a representative of the Poultry Investigational Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, I travel over miles and miles of territory in this state, and from the car windows I see many new poultry houses just completed or in the course of construction. A great majority of these are totally unfit for the housing of poultry.

There is little excuse for this state of affairs as the Poultry Department at Washington, and that department of your State Agricultural College, are prepared to furnish information regarding the construction of simple, practical and up to date poultry houses.

If there is any farmer in this county who is thinking of building a new poultry house or remodeling an old one and desires such information, write to me in care of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Kentucky.

Yours very truly,
H. W. RICKEY.

State Director Poultry Club Work.

Mysterious Chimney-Swift.

Much has been learned about bird migration but much yet remains to be learned, and the following is one of the most curious and interesting of the unsolved problems. The chimney-swift is one of the most abundant and best-known birds of eastern United States. With troops of fledglings catching their winged prey as they go, and lodging by night in tall chimneys, the flocks drift slowly south joining with other bands, until on the northern coast of the Gulf of Mexico they become an innumerable host. Then they disappear. Did they drop in the water or hibernates in the mud, as was believed of old, their obliteration could not be more complete. In the last week in March a joyful twittering far overhead announces their return to the Gulf coast, but their hiding place during the intervening five months is still the swift's secret.

WHY IS WOMAN RESTLESS?

DESTINY OF NATIONS DEPENDS UPON CONTENTED HOMES.

By W. D. Lewis.

President Texas Farmers' Union. Why is woman dissatisfied? Why does she grow restless under the crown of womanhood? Why is she weary of the God-given jewel of motherhood? Is it not a sufficient political achievement for woman that future rulers nurse at her breast, laugh in her arms and kneel at her feet? Can ambition leap to more glorious heights than to sing lullabies to the world's greatest geniuses, chaunt melodies to master minds and rock the cradle of human destiny?

God pity our country when the handshake of the politician is more gratifying to woman's heart than the patter of children's feet.

Woman is Ruler Over All.

Why does woman chafe under restraint of sex? Why revile the hand of nature? Why discard the skirts that civilization has elung to since the beginning of time? Why lay aside this hallowed garment that has wiped the tears of sorrow from the face of childhood? In its sacred embrace every generation has hidden its face in shame; clinging to its motherly folds, tottering children have learned to play hide and seek and from it youth learned to reverence and respect womanhood. Can man think of his mother without this consecrated garment?

Why this laudinate thirst for power? Is not woman all powerful? Man cannot enter this world without her consent, he cannot remain in peace without her blessing and unless she sheds tears of regret over her departure, he has lived in vain. Why this longing for elvish power when God has made her ruler over all? Why crave authority when man bows down and worships her? Man has given woman his heart, his name and his money. What more does she want?

Can man find it in his heart to look with pride upon the statement that his honorable mother-in-law was one of the most powerful political bosses in the country, that his distinguished grandmother was one of the ablest filibusters in the Senate or that his mother was a noted warrior and her name a terror to the enemy? Whether we are drifting and where will we land?

God Save Us From a Hen-Pecked Nation.

I follow the plow for a living and my views may have in them the smell of the soil; my hand is turning white under the frost of many winters and perhaps I am a little old-fashioned, but I believe there is more moral influence in the dress of woman than in all the statute books of the land. As an agency for morality, I wouldn't give my good old mother's home-made gowns for all the suffragette's constitutions and by-laws in the world. As a power for purifying society, I wouldn't give one prayer of my saintly mother for all the women's votes in Christendom. As an agency for good government, I wouldn't give the plea of a mother's heart for righteousness for all the oaths of office in the land.

There is more power in the smile of woman than in an act of congress. There are greater possibilities for good government in her family of laughing children than in the cabinet of the president of the United States.

The destiny of this nation lies in the home and not in the legislative halls. The hearthstone and the family hearth will ever remain the source of our inspiration and the Acts of the Apostles will ever shine brighter than the acts of Congress.

This country is law-made. Why add to a statute book, already groaning under its own weight, the hysterical cry of woman? If we never had a chance to vote again in a lifetime and did not pass another law in twenty-five years, we could survive the ordeal, but without home, civilization would wither and die.

God save these United States from becoming a hen-pecked nation; help us keep kisses out of Congress and forbid that women become step-fathers to government, the prayer of the farmers of this country.

CATHOLIC BISHOP EXPIRES.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Bishop Charles Henry Colton, of the Roman Catholic Church, is dead. Charles Henry Colton was born in New York in October, 1848, and ordained in that city June 10, 1876. Virtually all of his service until 1903 was in St. Stephen's parish, New York City. He was consecrated Bishop of Buffalo on August 25, 1903, succeeding Bishop Quigley, who had been raised to the Archbishopric of Chicago. He is survived by one sister, Miss Josephine Colton.

Look to Your Firesides!

Lenox, Ky. May 29, 1915.

Editor Courier:

The good citizens of Morgan and adjoining counties should support you to a man in exposing these wild cat schemes which have for a half a century kept back development in this, which is known to be the richest part of Kentucky. It is high time that the light was turned on, as it is becoming plainer each day that we have already waited too long. It has been shown that the owners of these titles will attempt to take possession of any holdings that are made valuable by the efforts of our people.

Who is the Continental Coal, Land & Timber Company that has purchased so much wild cat stuff in Morgan, Elliott, Rowan, Wolfe and Magoffin counties? Is this the same company that did so much investigating a year or so ago, and told the citizens they were surveying and opening up their coal banks to show and induce capital to build railroads, buy our coal and timber and other mineral rights, and representing that they had behind them men that did big things—such men as the Vice-President of one of the big steel companies, etc? These dealings should be brought to the attention of these men, as it is inconceivable that men of such prominence would knowingly do these things when it is shown to them that they have absolutely nothing in these enormous wild cat titles that they were buying, and that they are only working a hardship on our citizens. To defend, in many cases, the titles to their homes in a court would cost as much or more than their little home is worth.

Now since these lands have been conveyed to the Continental

Coal, Land & Timber Co., the record's in the Clerk's office show a cloud on most of the titles in the entire Morgan county, and many citizens are being deprived of a cash rental on their farms which they have been receiving for years. We have seen in Morgan county one of the biggest oil fields in the State, when all the different companies were working night and day producing oil which was helping our county and people to a more prosperous and happy condition, blasted, blighted and ruined by a suit brought on one of these old titles.

Don't you think it would be a good thing to show these people, in a nice way, that they have nothing in these old claims, and if this company or any other company is taking this method to get hold of our resources without compensating the real owners they will be the cause of much trouble and suffering? Will they take the responsibility?

SUBSCRIBER.

Mr. Subscriber, your remarks are timely and good. The Courier has been and is still doing all in its power to ascertain who is responsible for those wild cat deals. We are glad you and others are becoming interested in this matter. The people as a whole have never realized the gravity of the situation that confronts them. Morgan county people have already lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because of those old land claims and it looks as though the damnable work has just started. If the people don't wake up and work together a great many of them will ere long be seeking homes in other counties or states.—Editor.

Ethel, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hovemale, who has been very sick, is better.

Decision Expected.

Judge A. N. Cisco, one of the attorneys for defendants, was in Frankfort last week and while there dropped into the office of the Clerk of the Federal Court and made some inquiry concerning the papers in the case of the Sewell heirs vs. Collier, Conley and others, which has been on submission for nearly a year. He was informed by the Clerk that the record in the case was only forwarded to Judge A. M. J. Chochran at Maysville on the 4th day of May, 1915; that the papers were held in the office at the behest of O'Rear & Williams, attorneys for the plaintiffs, upon some pretense or other best known to themselves.

A decision in the case is expected within a few weeks, and in the mean time the people are anxiously awaiting the result.

Objects to Life-Tenure in Office.

Caney, Ky., June 1, 1915.
Editor Cottle:

"I didn't raise my boy to be a life-long voter for John Waugh."

While "Citizen," of Ezel, and "A Young Democrat," of Jephtha, each give excellent reasons why the democrats of these localities are against Waugh for Commonwealth's Attorney, there is still a more potent reason why we democrats of this section are against him, namely: Twelve years in an office and receiving approximately forty-eight thousand dollars in emoluments therefor is enough for one man. We must adhere to the democratic idea of rotation in office or cease to educate our boys. To continue Waugh in this office for another six years would be setting a precedent that destroys the ambition of every young man of the district. Are we just rearing our boys to be life long voters for a few pie grabbers, or are we to show them that rotation in office broadens their opportunities?

Practically all of the democrats in this part of the county are freely expressing themselves for G. W. Castle. They feel that by nominating and electing him they accomplish three things, viz: Secure a prosecutor who will do his duty fully and fearlessly in all cases; establish the democratic doctrine of rotation in office in district, and rebuke an office-hungry politician.

A FATHER.

Sandy Hook vs. Paintsville.

Sandy Hook and Paintsville crossed bats on the former's diamond May 29 and 30. On account of a wet day the first game was not closely contested, the score being 11 to 4 in favor of Sandy Hook. The batteries for the first game were Whit and Lyon for Sandy Hook and Wells and Castle and Wheatly for Paintsville.

The second game was very interesting from beginning to end, the score being 1 to 0 in favor of Sandy Hook. It was a pitcher's battle, only three hits being allowed on both sides, one off of Castle for Paintsville and two off Greene for Sandy Hook. Sandy Hook made their run in the sixth inning with two men down; Evans fled to center and reached second on an error by Preston; on the first ball across he stole third and Greene followed with a grounder to short who muffed the ball, allowing Evans to cross the plate with the winning run.

The doubles of Whit to Ferguson to Hunter; Ferguson to Whit to Hunter, and Greene to Hunter to Lyon saved the day for Sandy Hook.

The umpires for both games were Redwine and Holbrook. Send your challenges to Sandy Hook.

SANDY HOOK BALL CLUB.

W. M. Kendall at Brantontown.

Hon. W. M. Kendall, of West Liberty, Ky., arrived in the city yesterday and for the present, at least, is located at the Hotel Parque, on Pine street.

Mr. Kendall is a man well advanced in years, not alone as regards dallying with Father Time, but has led an active, strenuous life. He was a member of the state legislature during those troublous times, an incident of which was the assassination of the state's Chief Executive. Mr. Kendall's health is not as robust as he desired so after journeying over a great part of the U. S. has finally decided to settle down Brantontown for a comfortable summer.—Brantontown (Florida) Herald.

The Herald is in error in regard to the time that Mr. Kendall was in the legislature. Mr. Kendall's term antedated the assassination of Governor Goebel many years.

Notice Of Election Of Democratic Precinct Committeeman, River Precinct No. 8.

Pursuant to a call by J. D. Whitaker, Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Morgan County, Ky., it is hereby ordered that an election be held in River Precinct, No. 8 at the regular voting place in said precinct, at 2:00 P. M. on the 19th day of June, 1915, to elect a Democratic Precinct Committeeman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation A. J. Hammons.

This the 31st day of May, 1915.

Morgan Boy Leads.

Woodford Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Howard, of White Oak, student of the Millersburg Military Institute, graduated last month with first honors. This is very gratifying to Woodford's many friends who predict for him a brilliant future.

O'Rear Fogg, another former Morgan county boy, also graduated from the K. M. I. this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard attended the graduation exercises.

When Embarrassed.

A successful singing teacher gives this remedy for embarrassment: A deep breath inhaled and exhaled slowly with the help of the diaphragm muscle. Try it the next time you feel nervous, whether it is the thought of meeting someone or a burden of the small details of housekeeping that causes your nervousness or embarrassment.—Exchange.

Drowned in Beaver.

Manford, 16 year old son of Harlan Elam, formerly a resident of this county but who now lives in Menifee, was drowned in Beaver Creek near Frenchburg while seining Saturday the 29 ult. The remains were brought back to South Fork graveyard, near Malone, and buried Monday.

Rents Pike Hotel.

Nathan C. Day, formerly of this county has rented the Pike hotel at Pikeville and assumed charge.

The Pike is the largest hostelry in the Sandy valley.

Nathan and Mrs. Day are ideal hotel people and we predict success for them in their new venture.

Committed Suicide.

Obb Ellington, of Fleming county, committed suicide by shooting himself, Friday May 28. Mr. Ellington was the son of Taylor Ellington, who formerly lived in this county, and has many relatives here.

James Lewis, of Yocum, who is a relative of Mr. Ellington, was visiting the family at the time of Mr. Ellington's death.

Capitist Here.

Messrs. — Yandell, President of the O. & K. R. R. Co., M. L. Conley, Supt. of the Kentucky Block Canal Coal Co., and Dr. S. R. Collier spent two or three days looking over the Elk Fork coal field last week.

Dana, Iowa.

May 27, 1915.

West Liberty, Ky.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find one dollar money order for which send me the Licking Valley Courier one year.

Respectfully yours,

ROBERT KENNARD.

Geo. P. Dyer, candidate for Representative from the Morgan Wolfe district, passed through town last week enroute to Elk Fork and Paint in the interest of his candidacy. George speaks in glowing terms of his prospects for the nomination, and says that he expects to make every day count from now till the votes are all cast on August 7th.

West Liberty, Ky., May 28, 1915.

Young democrat is asking that we elect officers that will enforce the law in the liquor traffic. That the people should do, but it is much more important to elect men that will stop the dealings in wild cat titles in the mountain counties.

There is nothing more serious than putting a cloud on the title of a man's home, and it becomes doubly so to the poor man that has not money to defend his home in the courts.

If every officer did his duty and is willing to serve the people who elect them the people will be saved much trouble.

Yours truly,
